Where Can Homeless Veterans Find Emergency Shelter?

The best way to find shelters is by contacting Vermont 211. You can do this by dialing 2-1-1 from any phone. The call is toll free. You can also visit the Vermont 211 website. Here's how to find the list on their website to find an updated list of shelters. At the bottom of the page is a list of shelters that was current on August 4, 2008.

- Go to www.vt211.org
- Click on the "Search the 211 Network of Services" link on the right of the page
- Click the "See a List of Services by Category" button
- Click the "Basic Needs" link at the top of the list
- Click the "+" next to the "Housing - Emergency Shelter/Transitional Housing" option
- Select the Emergency Shelter Description that best suits your situation.

Does Vermont Have Any Transitional Housing for Veterans?

Yes. The Dodge House in Rutland provides homeless veterans with an individualized program to reintegrate them back into the community. They focus on long-term assistance, with most veterans staying between six months to a year. The program houses between 8-12 veterans at a time. Emergency shelter is not provided, as veterans must submit an application to participate.

Can Homeless Veterans Get Financial Assistance to Help Them Obtain a Place to Live?

Yes. Visit the Financial Assistance portion of this site to find out what financial resources are available.

Does the VA Have Anyone to Help Homeless Veterans in Vermont?

Yes. The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs has a homeless coordinator that works out of the WRJ VA Medical Center. She travels the state to assist homeless veterans, and is also a great resource for shelters.
